Part 3: Practice describing your likes and dislikes (using both the pictures and sentences) with a partner. Keep practicing until you don't need to look at the sentences and just need the pictures to talk about your likes and dislikes.

Part 4: Get into your assigned groups and start your presentations. REMEMBER only look at the pictures during your presentation.

Peer Scoring

During your group member's presentations, please score them according to the class rubric and write specific feedback about their language use.

Group Member	Score	Comments/Feedback

4- Got it! I understand completely and I make no mistakes. My language use is fully understandable. I use complete sentences, with extensive unit vocab (details), and few to no grammar mistakes. I speak without pauses.

3- Almost have it! I understand important details and I make little mistakes. My language use is understood by sympathetic listeners. I use some complete sentences, with adequate unit vocab, and have a general control of grammar, but some mistakes. Awkward pauses a general control of grammar, but some mistakes.

2- Getting it! I don't understand important details yet. My language use is partially understandable. I speak or write in broken sentences, with some unit vocab. I have limited control of grammar- make many grammar mistakes. Paused often.

1- Don't have it yet! I don't understand yet. My language use is minimally understandable. I speak or write in broken one or two word phrases, with minimal unit vocab. I have no control of grammar. Paused more than I spoke
